{csxcd} I have been looking for a solution for 3 days now. I really hope someone has a solution for this problem. I have been looking at this forum for days now and I have yet to see a solution to my problem. I had a Blu Ray rip from an optical disc that I wanted to play on my PS3. I connected the HDMI cable and turned on the game. When I looked in the settings and checked for "DVD Drive" I had this option on. Now when I connect my HD-DVD I just have the word "DVD" at the top left of the screen. I have been looking at this forum for days now and still can't find a solution. I have tried the force sync on and off. I've tried it with the different settings and nothing seems to work. I was told to check my AV settings on my TV and that is where I am stuck at. I looked at my settings and found the option for D-Sub and nothing in it. I really hope someone has a solution for this problem. Hey my name is Scott and I have the same problem as you. I am just wondering if you guys have tried the ebay PS3 version? I tried that version on my Playstation 3 and it works fine. The problem with the Blu Ray disc is that you are having to do it in hardware. It is a hardware problem. Not a software problem. If you try the Blu Ray disc it should be fixed right away because it is not a software problem. In other words it is not a problem with the software. It is a problem with the PS3 hardware. Yeah I tried the ebay PS3 version. The problem I had was that the disc wasn't being read at all. I had to look up what the EMAU was and find a player that I knew had it. I ended up having to download VLC and a media
